

The Division of Graduate Studies is pleased to offer Graduate Professional and Academic Development (GPAD) workshops. The one-hour workshops are FREE for Kent State graduate students. Light refreshments will be provided at each session. Pre-registration is preferred.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 6: KSC 303

12-1pm

Complex Conversations in Academia

Julien Roland and Casey Myers, Graduate Student Orientation Teaching Fellows

2-3pm

Syllabus and Scheduling

Andrea Maxwell and Kristen Traynor, Graduate Student Orientation Teaching Fellows

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 7: KSC 303

10-11am

Why? Why?Why?: Five Questions (at Least) You've Always had about Your Students but were Afraid to Ask

Dr. David Dees, Faculty Professional Development Center

12-1pm

Faculty Panel: Tips and Advice on Teaching from KSU Faculty

2-3pm

The Virtual Student: Teaching in the Online Environment

Naser Madi and Shelley Blundell, Graduate Student Orientation Teaching Fellows

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8: KSC 303

12-1pm

What You Need to Know About Students and Plagiarism

Edith Scarletto, University Libraries

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9: KSC 303

10-11am

Best Practices in the Online Environment

Dr. Bethany Simunich, Office of Continuing and Distance Education

12-1pm

Using BlackBoard as a Teaching Tool

Patricia Saillant, Blackboard Learn

2-3pm

Being a TA in a Science Lab

Rajlakshmi Ghosh, Graduate Student Orientation Teaching Fellow

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10: KSC 303

10-11am

Implementing Your Teaching and Learning Ideas with KSU Technology Tools

Tom Mahon, Information Services

12-1pm

Grading and Evaluation

Chris McCracken and Krishnamurti Murniadi, Graduate Student Orientation Teaching Fellows

To register and view session abstracts, please visit www.kent.edu/graduatestudies/gpad. If you have questions about GPAD, please contact Dr. Kate McNulty at kmcanult@kent.edu or 330-672-2180.