Our Voices: Climate Study on Race
2021 Preliminary Update
Initial Qualitative Trends
Initial Qualitative Trends Release Overview

• This is a preliminary report of qualitative responses

• Includes themes identified from two questions:
  • Have you seriously considered leaving?
  • Perceptions on the racist graffiti on The Rock in Fall 2020

• These two questions received the greatest number of written responses

• Continued analysis is being conducted on the other qualitative responses

• Subsequent qualitative reports will be released on the aggregate level (all campuses and colleges)

• Final reports are expected in Fall 2022
Acknowledgements

The Climate Study Committee Co-Chairs and the Division of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion would like to express our sincerest thanks to Cristin Compton, Ph.D. (Communication Studies) for her leadership on the qualitative analysis for the 2021 Climate Study on Race. This release and the subsequent analysis are a result of her leadership and dedication.
