In compliance with the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act (DFSCA) articulated through Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR) Part 86, the following review of Kent State University’s alcohol and other drug programs assesses the academic years 2020-2021 and 2021-2022.

Introduction

Kent State University’s student body consists of more than 32,000 undergraduate students and 5,500 graduate students enrolled from all 50 states and 122 different countries. Additionally, Kent State employs more than 5,700 faculty and staff.

Since the DFSCA’s 1994 amendments to the Higher Education Act of 1965, institutions of higher education have been responsible for communicating standards and prevention efforts regarding the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of alcohol and other illicit drugs (AOD) on their campuses. Every year, institutions are responsible for notifying students, faculty, and staff of the consequences AOD brings to the campus community. Every other year, in a biennial review, institutions must prepare a report that assesses the Drug Abuse and Alcohol Prevention Program (DAAPP). Institutions are charged with determining the effectiveness of their efforts and ensuring that disciplinary standards for enforcement are being upheld.

This biennial review has been completed by the Alcohol and Other Drug Task Force (“AOD Task Force”). The AOD Task Force is a group that fosters campus and community collaboration aimed at reducing the negative impact of alcohol and other drug use in our community. This group makes recommendations for policy and program changes, serves as the lead campus group to collaborate with community resources to reduce alcohol and other drug-related problems, coordinates the institutional alcohol and other drugs biennial review, and supports efforts of the community to reduce high risk alcohol and other drugs related negative behavior on and off campus.

Review of Kent State University DAAPP

Effectiveness of DAAPP

A requirement of the Biennial Review is to state the effectiveness of the DAAPP. The Kent State University DAAPP is a document that describes the multifaceted approach including prevention, emergency response, counseling, student conduct sanctioning, police intervention, and community resources to address drug abuse.

To be considered “effective,” the AOD Task Force believes that Kent State University must demonstrate a commitment towards identifying and responding to areas of concern pertaining to AOD issues. The following information describes proactive programming, reactive accountability, and a community of care for students, faculty, staff and the many surrounding communities.

Annual Notification

Annual notification of the DAAPP was sent to all students and employees. The notification included:
Standards of conduct that clearly prohibit, at a minimum, the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees;

A description of appropriate legal sanctions for violation of local, state, or federal laws for the unlawful possession or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol;

A description of the health risks associated with the abuse of illicit drugs or alcohol use.

A list of drug and alcohol programs (counseling, treatment, rehabilitation, and re-entry) that are available to employees or students;

A clear statement that Kent State University will impose disciplinary sanctions on students and employees for violations of the standards of conduct and a description of those sanctions, up to and including expulsion or termination of employment and referral for prosecution.

The Kent State University DAAPP was sent to all students and employees on the following dates between the 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 academic years:

- September 29, 2020
- January 27, 2021
- September 27, 2021
- January 28, 2022

Program Inventory

AOD programs and events are offered to students and employees on the Kent Campus by University Health Service, Kent State University Police Services, the Center for Student Involvement and Division of Human Resources. For the academic years 2020-2021 and 2021-2022, 57 AOD programs and events were offered and attended by 3,221 students and employees. A complete program and event inventory are available in Appendix 1 of this report.

Until the pandemic that limited physical distancing, most programs and events were held in-person, including safety and awareness presentations by Kent State Police Services and AOD workshops by the Office of Health Promotion. In March 2020, Kent State University transitioned into online education for the remainder of the spring 2020 semester. In the fall 2020 and spring 2021, there was limited capacity in on-campus housing, and many classes remained offered as online only. In the fall 2021, on-campus housing capacity increased, but not to the levels prior to the pandemic. Faculty and instructors similarly increased in-person class offerings, while online class options increased compared to before the pandemic. Access to in-person programs remained limited by the University’s administration in coordination with the Center for Disease Control guidelines. During the pandemic, University faculty and staff decreased in number. These factors explain the decline in programs and attendees.

Additionally, programs focusing on individual health and enrichment were offered. These programs did not specifically focus on AOD issues; rather, they addressed the overarching concept of healthy lifestyles. Examples such as Recreational Services and the Sexual and Relationship Violence Support Services Office deserve recognition as positive contributors to healthy endeavors within the University community but will not be evaluated or elaborated on in this report.

In addition, the Office of Student Conduct is delegated the responsibility of enforcing the Code of Student Conduct. The Code of Student Conduct outlines the University’s expectations for student behavior; the Office of Student Conduct facilitates the review of student behavior that may be in violation of the expectations outlined in the Code of Student Conduct. In conjunction, University Housing addresses violations for possession and use of alcohol and controlled substances. Details of the cases reviewed by both offices are outlined later in this report and additional data is included in the appendices.

The Campus Safety, Security, and Fire Safety Bulletin is released annually for each of the eight campuses of Kent State University along with the College of Podiatric Medicine. Reports for each campus include AOD related crime statistics, programming information, and campus and local resources. The Office of Health Promotion on the Kent Campus is available as a resource to all other campuses for programming as well.

Policy and Procedure Inventory
A number of administrative functions are intended to have an impact on AOD prevention and awareness efforts. The University utilizes a “Good Samaritan” provision to address students who have experienced an AOD overdose and require a mental health follow-up. Parental notification letters are sent by the Office of Student Conduct after underage students are found responsible for alcohol or controlled substances violations. A coordinated effort between Kent State University and the City of Kent has addressed high risk AOD behaviors by reducing off campus party and noise disturbance concerns.

Statement of AOD Program Goals and Goal Achievement
Kent State University’s program goals for this biennial review during the 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 academic years were to:

1. Increase AOD awareness through prevention programming to students and employees.
2. Reduce the community impact related to high risk off campus parties in the City of Kent.
3. Provide AOD support services for students and employees.
4. Hold students accountable for AOD violations by enforcing the Code of Student Conduct.
5. Outreach to regional campuses at Kent State University on AOD awareness and programming.
6. Outreach to the City of Kent community agencies that work with AOD support for students.

The outcomes of these goals during this biennial review period are:

1. Increase AOD awareness through prevention programming to students and employees.
   Awareness regarding AOD rules and regulations begins for students at Destination Kent State, Kent State University’s new student orientation program. This program takes place prior to the start of each semester. Students are informed of the University’s AOD policies. First Year Experience courses have a session targeting AOD awareness involving presenters from University Health Services and community partnerships. University Health Services provides preventative and ongoing AOD services for students. AOD and depression screening are examples of programs that University Health Services supplies to aid in awareness and prevention.

   Student organizations have assisted in the University’s efforts to address AOD awareness and provide additional programming and resources to our students. The message provided for students would not be effective without the willingness of students to challenge their peers’ perceptions and behaviors related to AOD. Greek councils sponsor two risk awareness weeks each year that incorporate programming related to AOD topics that are open to the campus community.
Fraternity and Sorority Life (FSL) works to support students and their programming efforts. This includes hosting trainings due to certifications that members of the office hold as well as advising the three Governing Councils on programming that they host. These efforts have also been focused in engaging with the larger Kent community to reduce risk during holidays such as Halloween and St. Patrick’s Day through risk training with the Kent Police Department. These efforts have yielded significant decreases in organization violations and individual violations throughout the years.

The Kent State Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) has a 24-hour (7 days a week, 365 days a year) phone line to speak with a licensed mental health clinician from Impact Student Assistance Program.

The Kent State of Well-being and University Health Services offers a 24-hour (7 days a week, 365 days a year) Nurse Hotline to address all health-related matters including AOD issues of concern.

Employees are informed about the Employee Assistance Program (EAP) through new employee orientation materials. The EAP provides assistance through the specific “Impact” program with and access to resources for AOD concerns.

2. Reduce the community impact related to high risk off campus parties in the City of Kent.
Off campus house parties in the City of Kent have been a detriment to the community and resulted in student arrests and referrals to the Office of Student Conduct. Examples of issues with these parties on Halloween, St. Patrick’s Day, “Fake Patty’s Day,” and College Fest included underage drinking, reckless behavior, acts of violence such as fighting and rioting. Kent State University joined with student leaders, police agencies, community members, city employees, and local businesses to collaborate and reduce the frequency and negative impact of these parties. The result was that continued elimination of the most destructive event (College Fest) and reduced high risk AOD parties from 2020 to 2022.

3. Provide AOD support services for students and employees.
Kent State University utilizes licensed psychologists and counseling graduate students to supply AOD services for students, faculty, and staff. Counseling and Psychological Services is the primary service provider for students. The Counseling and Human Development Center (White Hall) and Psychological Clinic (Kent Hall) are available to students, faculty, and staff. Portage County resources such as Townhall II, a community treatment agency, are promoted and accessible for students, faculty and staff. The University’s employee assistance program, Impact Solutions, provide assistance with and access to resources regarding AOD concerns for employees.

4. Hold students accountable for AOD violations by enforcing the Code of Student Conduct.
Kent State University Police Services, University Housing, Office of Student Conduct, and Human Resources are the primary departments that coordinate a review of reported behavior when an alleged policy violation involving AOD occurs. Where students are accused of violations, there is a collaborative effort between Police Services, University Housing, and the Office of Student Conduct to address adjudication both on campus and in the surrounding community. When an accused student is found responsible for violating University policy, the severity of the actions leads to sanctions focused on educational opportunities while being cognizant of individual safety and the campus community. Where employees are accused of violations, the supervisor is encouraged to review the reported behavior with Human Resources for appropriate action.
In the academic year 2020-2021 the Office of Student Conduct adjudicated 55 AOD cases. In the academic year 2021-2022 the Office of Student Conduct adjudicated 108 AOD cases. Included are cases for individual students and student organizations. The most frequent educational sanctions for these cases were AOD workshops offered through University Health Services.

Greek membership uses a self-governance component where chapters use their internal judicial boards to hold members accountable for violations of organizational policy related to AOD. Sanctions within the organizations can range from written warning to membership termination.

The AOD Task Force coordinates the Biennial Review which ultimately entails a comprehensive assessment of AOD programs and behaviors.

5. Outreach to regional campuses at Kent State University on AOD awareness and programming.
   Ashtabula campus, led by a campus counselor in 2018, began assisting students in recover or considering recovery which is ongoing.

   At the Geauga and Trumbull campuses, printed information has been distributed and made available to students, faculty, and staff on topics including: smoking and alcohol abuse, counterfeit drug awareness, alcohol crime enforcement and the law, and drugged driving.

6. Outreach to the City of Kent community agencies that work with AOD support for students.
   The Mental Health & Recovery Board plans, funds, and monitors mental health, addiction, prevention, and treatment services for Portage County residents including Kent State students. The Board funds not for profit community agencies that provide services, such as the 24/7 addiction helpline, funds naloxone, and trains Kent State Police officers in crisis intervention training. Staff from the Kent State Collegiate Recovery Community participate in the Portage Substance Abuse Community Coalition.

Additional Information

Summary
A review of the comprehensive DAAPP reveals an infrastructure that has resources to offer preventative and reactive programming; large-group, small group, and individualized support; availability for assistance on and off campus sites; accountability for recognized violations; and amnesty for Good Samaritans. Yet, there remain areas for growth, awareness and sharing of resources, and challenges in reaching persons with AOD issues in recognizing the many avenues for assistance at the precise time it is needed.

Strengths
Multiple departments and various offices (Counseling and Psychological Services, University Housing, Office of Student Conduct, Police Services, University Health Services, Center for Student Involvement and Division of Human Resources), and regional campuses offer AOD programs, events, and resources. These programs, events and resources are conducive to individuals who may be at different developmental maturities. University personnel and peer facilitators coordinating programs and events, and providing resources, are trained to address AOD concerns. Counseling and Psychological Services has a substance use specialist who oversees the Collegiate Recovery Community (CRC).
Kent State University and the City of Kent, Ohio continued a positive and productive collaboration during the review period. Campus and city officials meet monthly to discuss issues impacting the community typically as a result of AOD behavior. Communicating with city officials, police, and notifying landlords about problem properties has been effective. University staff and Portage County Mental Health and Recovery Board are connected and promote appropriate referrals to increase awareness of AOD issues. Both municipal and campus leaders are members of the AOD Task Force.

Challenges
Kent State University has a campus in Kent, Ohio. In addition to the Kent campus there are seven “regional” campuses throughout Northeast Ohio, properties for a specific college in Independence, Ohio and in multiple international locations and centers (Geneva, Switzerland; Florence, Italy; Beijing, China; New Delhi, India). Although some assessment for regional campuses have been accomplished in the last two academic years, greater quantity and quality of analysis could be helpful to consider additional AOD prevention and response.

Another area of challenge is that several areas of the university clearly address AOD, however obtaining specific information to add to the Kent State University DAAPP and Biennial Review has been difficult and requires further review. Examples include athletics, student organizations, international students, and human resources.

Procedures for Distribution of Annual AOD Notification to Students and Employees
Through the Office of the Senior Vice President for Student Affairs, the Dean of Students is responsible for coordinating and distributing the annual AOD notification to students, faculty, and staff. For the most recent distribution (2022) the Dean of Students consulted with Counseling and Psychological Services, University Health Services, Office of Student Conduct, Police Services, and Office of General Counsel to verify the information and resources. An email was sent to the entire Kent State University community. In addition to the email, a website on the Senior Vice President for Student Affairs page was created to display further resources and details for all University personnel and community members to view. Annual notifications from 2020, 2021 and 2022 are available in the appendix of this document. The current expectation is for the current DAAPP to be made publicly available by every October 1 and February 1, with the current Biennial Review available on even-numbered years by October 1.

Impact of the 2020 COVID-19 Pandemic
Effective March 10, 2020 Kent State University President Diacon officially updated all academic classes and support services to engage remotely. A significant amount of behavioral referrals stem from on campus violations. With Residence Hall students sent home and in-person programming postponed or canceled, their respective statistics for that time period are reflective of these adjustments.

Providing in-person presentations, fairs for students, parents & families and offering pamphlets and other deliverables to participants in Destination Kent State, Kent State University’s summer orientation platforms was updated to be 100% online. Presentations on AOD topics were developed, recorded, and made available to all prospective and current students and their families.

Another impact of the COVID-19 pandemic has been the stress on the University budget. As of the writing of this document, the degree to which budget decisions may impact AOD resources are unclear.
Recommendations for Revising AOD Programs
The following recommendations are made from the AOD Task Force for revising AOD programs, events, and resources:

- Continue to build on the strengths of providing high quality and a large quantity of programs from educated and diverse presenters
- Integrate regional campuses and international properties / centers into programing, events, and resources
- Continue to work with local community agencies to identify trends, areas of need, and resources for students, faculty, and staff
- Review and update AOD policies as appropriate
- Recruit student representation on the AOD Task Force
- Evaluate the annual AOD survey for content, data analysis, and practical implications
- Monitor and reduce further high-risk off-campus AOD parties at targeted times including Halloween and “Fake Patty’s Day”

According to the Guide, “this publication is in the public domain. Authorization to reproduce it in whole or in part is granted.” Kent State University acknowledges that intellectual information and direction from the Guide have been utilized in the creation of this biennial review.

INTRODUCTION

Kent State University is a student-centered institution offering a broad array of academic programs to engage students in diverse learning environments that educate them to think critically and to expand their intellectual horizons while attaining the knowledge and skills necessary for responsible citizenship and productive careers. To maintain high standards, the University must furnish an atmosphere conducive to study and educational growth, as well as one that enables and assists students in developing in a positive manner. University rules and regulations form parameters for individual behavior on and off campus, and follow the normative standards of behavior adhered to by the City of Kent and Kent State University communities. By virtue of a student’s enrollment at Kent State University, each student consents to follow the policies and procedures of the University, including those outlined in this Code of Student Conduct. It is the individual student’s responsibility to be familiar with all applicable conduct-related policies.

A student may access the full University Policy Register, which contains the complete text of all the University’s current policies online at: www.kent.edu/policyreg. Other rules and regulations may be found in the Residence Hall Contract and the Hallways Handbook, as well as in publications such as the University Catalog.

The Office of Student Conduct is responsible for the adjudication of cases involving students and student organizations accused of violating campus rules, regulations, or policies; federal or state laws; and/or municipality ordinances. The University’s student conduct-related goals are: to provide students with due process; to make students aware of and able to reasonably navigate through the conduct process; to have students accept responsibility for their actions when it is warranted; to be intentionally educational; to assist students in making responsible decisions; and to apply sanctions designed to assist students in their pursuit of excellence in both the classroom and the community.

The Student Conduct process is not a legal process and is separate from federal, state, and local court proceedings. Instead, the standard of responsibility is based on a preponderance of the evidence. The student conduct process is expected to:

• Determine consequences for behaviors that violate university rules, policies, and federal, state, and local laws or ordinances
• Offer outcomes to assist students in learning about the impact of their actions on themselves and others within their respective communities
• Protect the integrity of students, faculty, staff, the institution, and the University community

Section 1: University policy regarding administration of student conduct (University Policy Register 4–02)

A. Purpose. The university board of trustees is responsible by law for regulating the use of the grounds, buildings, equipment and facilities of the university. The board of trustees is also responsible for assuring that the conduct of the students, staff, faculty and visitors to the campus permits the university to pursue its educational objectives and programs in an orderly manner.

B. Requirements.
1. To meet these responsibilities, the board of trustees shall adopt standards of conduct for the students, faculty, staff, and visitors to the campus and may provide for suspension from classes or employment, expulsion from the university, and/or ejection from university property of persons who violate such regulations.

2. The board of trustees shall provide for the administration and enforcement of its rules and may authorize the use of state university law enforcement officers and other university officials to assist in enforcing university policy and the law on the campus.

C. Scope. In accordance with university policy, the president shall have the responsibility and authority for the discipline of all students. The authority to impose the formal sanctions specified in this rule may be delegated to university officials or hearing panels by the president. Disciplinary action under this rule may be taken against a person who has applied for admission as a student to the university, whether or not the individual is registered for classes. Disciplinary action may also be taken against student organizations. The president (or designee) review any case which comes within the purview of the university policy regarding administration of student conduct.

D. Jurisdiction. The code of student conduct shall apply to conduct occurring on university premises, at university-sponsored activities, and to off-campus conduct that adversely affects the university community and/or the pursuit of its objectives. Behavioral conduct is the responsibility of each student from the time of application for admission through the actual awarding of a degree, even though conduct may occur before classes begin or after classes end, as well as during the academic year and during periods between terms of actual enrollment. The code of student conduct shall apply to a student’s conduct (or student organization’s conduct) even if the student withdraws (or the student organization ceases functioning/loses university-recognized status) from the university while a disciplinary matter is pending. The senior vice president for student affairs (or designee) maintains discretion to decide, on a case by case basis, whether the code of student conduct shall be applied to conduct occurring off campus.

E. Procedural standards. Students and student organizations shall adhere to operational procedures for the administration of student conduct under this rule or rule 3342-4-02.1 of the Administrative Code. The procedural standards shall be readily accessible to all students and student organizations.

F. Responsibility for administration of this policy. The primary responsibility for the supervision of student conduct at the university has been delegated to the senior vice president for student affairs. The senior vice president for student affairs may establish such administrative procedures as are necessary to fulfill the intent of the code of student conduct. These administrative procedures shall be in writing and published in conjunction with the code of student conduct.

1. The president authorizes the senior vice president for student affairs to establish administrative procedures as necessary to fulfill the intent of this rule. The senior vice president for student affairs may delegate the responsibility to direct the student conduct process to the director of student conduct.

G. All-university hearing board. In recognition of the student right to self-govern by and through the undergraduate student government, the all-university hearing board is established to administer non-conduct related matters involving students. Accordingly, the all-university hearing board shall not have the authority to intervene in the student conduct process administered by the university, and the purview of such board shall be limited to the scope as currently provided for in rule 3342-2-08 of the Administrative Code.

H. Revisions. Updates and other changes to the code of student conduct shall be submitted to the senior vice president for student affairs. The senior vice president for student affairs retains the authority to immediately enact and enforce changes to the code of student conduct.

Section 2: Administrative policy and procedures regarding regulations for student behavior and administration of student conduct (University Policy Register 4-02.1)

A. Purpose.

Paragraph (F)(1) of rule 3342-4-02 of the Administrative Code authorizes the senior vice president for student affairs to establish administrative procedures as necessary to fulfill the intent of this rule. The senior vice president for student affairs may delegate the responsibility to manage the student conduct process to the director of student conduct.

1. It is the responsibility of the director of student conduct to determine if referrals should be assigned to conduct hearings; provide student conduct hearings and officers with technical advice, training, and clerical support; establish procedures to ensure an ongoing evaluation of student conduct rules; collect and maintain all records of formal disciplinary action; establish means to inform all members of the university community of student conduct policies and issues; and serve as a consultant to students and staff in the administration of the student conduct process. This policy establishes procedural direction and is subject to change by action of the senior vice president for student affairs. The procedures are intended to assure proper implementation of the policy regarding administration of student conduct.

2. The director of student conduct (or designee) is responsible for a review of information contained in an incident report, and reserves the right to add, adjust, or remove accusations prior to issuing a notice of hearing (which includes an incident report and pending accusations) for any case.

3. After reviewing the information contained in an incident report, the director of student conduct (or designee) shall assign the appropriate process for resolution, including but not limited to a sanction hearing, hearing panel, administrative conversation, administrative hearing, or referral to alternative conflict resolution.

4. The senior vice president for student affairs (or designee) may uphold, alter or reverse any student conduct decision.

B. Student rights and procedural standards.

1. The university shall provide respondents and complainants (either of who may be a student or members of a student organization) the following rights:

   a. For the respondent to be sent a written notice of accusations including the identity of the complainant(s).
      i. Complainants name(s) may not be forwarded if the office of compliance and equal opportunity and affirmative action suggests a potential detrimental risk as a result of doing so.

Incident reports may be submitted to the director of student conduct (or designee) in writing. The director of student conduct (or designee) will determine if the allegations are within the parameters of university policy regarding the administration of student conduct (rule 3342-4-02 of the Administrative Code) and may assign appropriate accusations based on the information provided.

3. Action. Formal disciplinary action shall be instituted against a respondent only after the director of student conduct (or designee) has determined that such action, rather than medical or counseling services, or alternative conflict resolution / mediation referral, is appropriate.

4. Type of hearing or referral. A sanction hearing may be assigned for violations that, even with a finding of responsibility, may not lead to suspension or dismissal from the university. A hearing panel may be convened when a respondent does not accept responsibility for accusations, or when assigned by the director of student conduct (or designee). An administrative hearing may be assigned by the director of student conduct (or designee) in cases where the accusation includes an alleged act of violence, significant personal or property damages, and/or the alleged behavior may be considered detrimental to the health or safety of the university. The office of student conduct sends written notification to the respondent(s) as per the code of student conduct and paragraph (C)(5) of this rule.

a. Sanction hearing. A sanction hearing is composed of one hearing officer and facilitated by a student conduct convener. A student conduct convener may serve as a sanction hearing officer and function in both roles.

If a respondent, any time prior to the start of deliberation, informs the hearing officer and/or student conduct convener that responsibility for one or more accusations is not accepted, the sanction hearing is nullified and a hearing panel may be scheduled. The sanction hearing process will immediately cease, and the hearing panel process will follow the code of student conduct and paragraph (C)(12) of this rule.

b. Hearing panel. A hearing panel is composed of three hearing officers and facilitated by a student conduct convener. The purpose of a hearing panel is to decide if a respondent is responsible for accusations, and if so, to apply educational sanctions. A student conduct convener may serve on a hearing panel and function in both roles.

c. Administrative hearing. An administrative hearing panel is composed of one hearing officer appointed by the director of student conduct (or designee). The purpose of an administrative hearing is to decide if a respondent is responsible for accusations, and if so, to apply educational sanctions.

d. Referral to alternative conflict resolution. A student or student organization may be referred to alternative conflict resolution in lieu of and/or in addition to a student conduct hearing.

5. Notice. A respondent shall be sent a written (and/or electronic letter that includes accusation(s) in addition to a copy of the corresponding incident report. Time limits may be extended at the discretion of the director of student conduct (or designee); see paragraph (B)(1)(b) of this rule for further information. The letter of accusation(s) and incident report shall contain links to access information about the student conduct process, the code of student conduct, and accessibility of a conduct advisor.

6. Separate hearings. In proceedings involving more than one respondent, a separate hearing may be requested by a respondent or complainant, and granted at the discretion of the director of student conduct (or designee). Also, upon reasonable request submitted in writing, a delay in the hearing may be granted by the director of student conduct (or designee). In all cases, the proceedings may be delayed no more than two times.

7. Conduct advisor. A student may have up to, but no more than, two persons serving as a conduct advisor. If an accommodation is required for a respondent or complainant, a person such as an interpreter, sign language communicator, or physical needs assistant may attend a hearing and may not be counted as a conduct advisor. A conduct advisor may not serve in any other capacity in the hearing.

8. Impartial hearing. Prior to the start of a hearing, a respondent and complainant may question a hearing officer regarding that person’s ability to participate fairly in the hearing. Questions should be directed to the director of student conduct (or designee), who will decide whether or not to remove a hearing. If the director of student conduct (or designee) determines no changes are necessary the hearing will begin as scheduled; if changes are deemed to be necessary, a hearing may be delayed or rescheduled at the discretion of the director of student conduct (or designee).

9. Standard of review. A hearing officer or panel shall evaluate the points of view presented by the respondent(s), complainant(s), and law enforcement/investigators and shall determine by a preponderance of the evidence (more likely than not) if the respondent(s) engaged in behavior that is a violation of university rules. The consideration of information presented will be conducted in a closed session(s).

10. Closed hearings. All hearings are closed to the public. Attendees may include: respondent(s), complainant(s), law enforcement/investigator(s), hearing officer(s), student conduct staff /convener, and conduct advisor(s).    b. For sanction hearings, where the respondent has already accepted responsibility for the accusations, complainants may not be asked to participate in the hearing process.

11. Failure to appear. If a complainant, respondent, or law enforcement/investigator fails to appear to a scheduled student conduct hearing, the hearing will proceed in accordance with student conduct procedures.

If the respondent(s) is a student organization and is not present, the decision may be sent to the official Kent state university email addresses of minimally the president and vice president of the accused student organization.

15. Retaliation. A retaliatory action is any materially adverse action taken against a person because they participated in the process for reporting or in an investigation regarding complaints of discrimination. A materially adverse action is one that might deter a reasonable person from participating in the process. It may include, but is not limited to, termination, discipline, and harassment, but does not include petty slights, minor annoyances, or trivial punishment.

D. Appeals.

1. Appeal of a decision from a student conduct hearing must be submitted by the respondent(s) or complainant(s) in writing to the office of student conduct within seven calendar days from the conclusion of the hearing (or the next available business day after seven calendar days – for example holidays or recesses). An appeal must be submitted using the appeal form available through the office of student conduct. The office of student conduct compiles the written appeal and documentation from the respondent(s), complainant(s), law enforcement/investigator(s), the student's disciplinary file(s), the digital recording of the hearing, and any additional information provided by the hearing officer(s) and submits these materials to an appeal panel.

2. Appeals may be made on the basis that:
   a. Procedural irregularity that affected the outcome of the matter; and/or
   b. New evidence that was not reasonably available at the time the determination regarding responsibility or dismissal was made, that could affect the outcome of the matter; and/or
   c. The hearing officer(s) had a conflict of interest or bias for or against complainants or respondents generally or the individual complainant or respondent that affected the outcome of the matter; and/or
   d. For decisions resulting in separation from Kent state university only (including but not limited to suspension, dismissal, removal from university housing, and persona non grata): sanction(s) imposed were not appropriate for the conduct violation for which the respondent(s) was found responsible.

3. If the office of student conduct receives an appeal that does not meet any of the criteria listed in paragraph (D)(2) of this rule, it may reject the appeal.

4. The director of student conduct (or designee) has the discretion to extend the date to appeal process timelines for extenuating circumstances.

5. Composition. An appeal panel is composed of at least two Kent state university faculty, staff, and/or student hearing officers appointed by the senior vice president for student affairs who are trained by the director of student conduct (or designee). E. Interim actions.

When the senior vice president for student affairs (or designee) has reasonable cause to believe that a student(s) or student organization(s) may pose a risk to the safety or well-being of those involved or others in the university community, the student(s) or student organization(s) may be issued an interim action. Interim actions may include but are not limited to: no contact order(s); restriction from specific classes, campus facilities or locations; requirement to secure a psychological evaluation; cease and desist mandates; restriction from facilitating or participating in student organization business or activities; suspension of student status or student organization recognition; etc. An interim action shall remain in effect until removed or altered by the senior vice president for student affairs (or designee) or as the result of the student conduct process. Failure to comply with an interim action may result in a referral to the office of student conduct and/or the Kent state university police department.

1. Interim suspension. An interim suspension immediately revokes a student’s or student organization’s access from all or any specific portion of university premises, university-related activities and/or registered student organization activities. An interim suspension will be confirmed by a written notice and shall remain in effect until the conclusion of an administrative hearing, student conduct hearing, or decision by the senior vice president for student affairs (or designee). Such action may occur in conjunction with, or in lieu of, Ohio Campus Disruption Act (House Bill 1219) proceedings, at the discretion of the senior vice president for student affairs (or designee). A student or student organization may challenge an interim suspension in writing to the senior vice president for student affairs (or designee). Failure to comply with an interim suspension may result in a referral to the office of student conduct and/or the Kent state university police services.

F. Voluntary and involuntary withdrawal.

Rule 3342-4-02.5 of the Administrative Code is applied when a health emergency or condition renders a student’s continued participation in university academics, programs, or services impossible, impractical or unsafe to any member of the university community. Voluntary and involuntary withdrawal may not preclude the student conduct process from occurring. In these specific instances, at the discretion of the senior vice president for student affairs (or designee), the student conduct process may be indefinitely delayed, and the student placed on ineligible hold, thus prohibiting future class registration. If/when the student attempts to re-enter the university, the pending student conduct proceedings may be reinstituted.

G. Student organizations registered with the university.

Student organizations registered with the university. Resolution of a student organization issue pertaining to an alleged violation of university policy will be addressed through the student conduct process. This may include but is not limited to athletic teams, bands, fraternities, reserve officer training corps, sororities, student clubs under the auspices of the Kent student center for student involvement, sports clubs, the undergraduate and graduate student governing bodies, and university housing student governing bodies. Student organizations may be investigated and/or directly referred to the office of student conduct for adjudication. The dean of students (or designee) may receive complaints, determine interim actions if necessary, and/or coordinate investigations for allegations against student organizations.

1. Investigations. The dean of students (or designee) may assign investigators to review allegations against student organizations for any potential violation of the code of student conduct including but not limited to, alcohol, controlled substances, hazing, physical violence, sexual assault, sexual harassment, or weapons.    b. Require interim actions as described in (E) of this administrative policy; and/or
   c. Require an administrative action including but not limited to an informal warning or a required administrative conversation; and/or
   d. Referral to the office of student conduct for adjudication.

If an incident involving a student organization is forwarded to the office of student conduct for adjudication, minimally the president and vice president (or equivalent executive positions) are considered representatives of the student organization, and will be provided notice in accordance with paragraph (C)(5) of this rule for participation in the student conduct process. The student organization/campus advisor may also be notified.

3. Disciplinary hearings for student organizations follow paragraphs (C)(1) through (C)(15) of this rule.

H. All-university hearing board.

As stated in the university undergraduate student senate charter (provided for in rule 3342-2-08 of the Administrative Code), the all university hearing board is established to recommend sanctions regarding the violation of university rules and regulations. In addition, the all university hearing board is vested with the judicial authority for the undergraduate student government (USG).

I. Alternative conflict resolution.

1. Alternative conflict resolution (ACR) is an informal option for seeking redress with an issue(s). ACR may be available for issues pertaining to students or student organizations. If all persons personally and directly affected by the conflict agree to attempt resolution through an alternative process (such as mediation, facilitated dialogue, etc.) and the director of student conduct (or designee) has not already assigned the formal student conduct process, than an ACR process may be available. The nature of some conflicts, especially those involving violence, may not be appropriate for ACR options.

2. Participation in an ACR process may or may not result in an agreement or resolution. When a mutually satisfactory resolution is reached, the situation is considered resolved with no disciplinary record being maintained. Resolutions reached through ACR may not be appealed. If a resolution is not achieved through an attempt at ACR and the matter involves a potential violation of university policy, a complainant may initiate the formal disciplinary process from the university policy regarding administration of student conduct provided for in rule 3342-4-02 of the Administrative Code.

3. The director of student conduct (or designee) may refer incidents to ACR in lieu of adjudication. Failure of a student or student organization to make a good faith and timely effort with ACR may result in the case being referred back to student conduct for adjudication.

J. Ohio Campus Disruption Act.

The Ohio Campus Disruption Act, passed by the 108th Ohio General Assembly (House Bill 1219), directly affects the operation of state universities in Ohio. The Act has specific ramifications for university students, faculty, and staff. In essence, any individual who commits an act of violence and is arrested for that violation is subject to immediate suspension from the university. The act reads in part that a student, faculty or staff member, or employee of a college or university which receives any state funds in support thereof who is arrested for any of the so-called "trigger" offenses listed within division (A)(9)(A) of section 2901.01 of the Revised Code shall be afforded a hearing, as provided in this Act, to determine whether the accused person shall be immediately suspended from that college or university. Such hearings shall be held within not more than five days after an arrest of the accused person, subject to reasonable continuances for good cause shown. Continuances shall not exceed a total of ten days. If at the hearing the referee finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the person whose suspension is being considered committed any of the specified trigger offenses, the referee shall order the person suspended. Except for cases in which the good order and discipline of a college or university will be prejudiced or compromised thereby, the referee may permit the person to return to the college or university on terms of strict disciplinary probation. Subsequent violation of the terms of the probation automatically causes the provisions of the Ohio Campus Disruption Act to go into effect. Based on section 3345.23 of the Revised Code, the conviction of a student, faculty or staff member, or employee is cause for dismissal or suspension pursuant to section 3345.22 of the Revised Code.
K. Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).
   Kent State University complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 in its maintenance of student educational records. N. Revisions and applicability.
   1. Revisions. Throughout any given year, changes to the code of student conduct may be approved. As members of the university community, students are encouraged to be aware of any public announcements concerning changes to the rules and regulations governing student behavior. Updates and other changes to the code of student conduct shall be submitted to the director of student conduct.
   2. Applicability. This rule and the code of student conduct reflect language found in various university policies and procedures located in the Kent State University policy register.
