- Drafting Chair
  [While there are many acceptable options from which to choose, the Boss B16216 Mesh Drafting Stool with adjustable seat and with or without arms (available from Amazon for about $100 and numerous other online retailers) is recommended. In addition, we recommend that you purchase a set of soft rubber caster wheels (also available on Amazon for around $15) as the hard casters standard on this type of chair will not effectively grip the polished concrete floors in the CAED building. Of course you do not need to purchase this particular chair but do remember that you will be using this for the next 4 to 5 years and comfort and durability are key. Students are encouraged to use a cable lock to secure their chair to their assigned desk. During the semester students are encouraged to do all of their studio work in studio. When finished for the evening, students are recommended to lock up their storage cabinet and chair.]
