

Counseling Careers Concentration

Interested in how people cope with stress and adjust to new situations? Want to learn about intervention and treatment techniques? If you plan to pursue a master's level counseling degree such as social work or mental health counseling this concentration may fit your career plans!

Required

- Psychology of Everyday Life (PSYC 21211)
- Abnormal Psychology (PSYC 40111)
- Psychological Assessment (PSYC 40231)
- Introduction to Clinical Psychology (PSYC 40383)
- Child Psychology (PSYC 20651 or Adolescent Psychology (PSYC 30651) or Psychology of Aging (PSYC 30656)

Choose ONE of the following

- Forensic Psychology (PSYC 30111)
- Adolescent Psychology (PSYC 30651)
- Children's Thinking (PSYC 30655)
- Pediatric Psychology (PSYC 40382)
- Health Psychology (PSYC 41581)
- Special Topics in Counseling Careers (PSYC 41595)
- Drugs and Behavior (PSYC 41364)

