College General Requirements

Social Sciences

One additional course taken from the Kent Core Social Sciences courses in the following Arts and Sciences disciplines (This course may not be from the student's major):

- Anthropology (ANTH)
- Geography (GEOG)
- Criminology and Justice Studies (CRIM)
- Peace and Conflict Studies (PACS)
- Political Science (POL)
- Psychology (PSYC)
- Sociology (SOC)

Basic Sciences

One additional course taken from the Kent Core Natural Sciences courses in the following Arts and Sciences disciplines (This course may not be from the student's major):

- Anthropology (ANTH)
- Biological Sciences (BSCI)
- Chemistry (CHEM)
- Geography (GEOG)
- Geology (GEOL)
- Physics (PHY)

The Criminology and Justice Studies major comprises the following concentrations:

- The Corrections concentration is for students interested in pursuing careers in institutional corrections for adults or juveniles, or in such community corrections fields as probation and parole.
- The Criminology and Deviance concentration is for students interested in understanding the origins and nature of deviance and crime, their patterns and societal responses; this concentration is appropriate for students preparing for graduate study in sociology, criminology, criminal justice, public policy or social work.
- The General–Criminology and Justice Studies concentration is for students who either choose not to pursue specializations within the major or wish to pursue an individualized program of study (through general electives), which does not align with the other concentrations.
- The Justice and Human Relations concentration is for students interested in such fields as social work, counseling, clinical psychology, victimology, victim advocacy, juvenile justice, public/community relations in criminal justice, community organizing, diversity or social justice. (Interdisciplinary training and/or specialized graduate training are necessary for careers in many of those fields.)
- The Law and Society concentration is for students interested in the social relevance of law and social influences on law; this concentration is appropriate preparation for law school or graduate study in the social sciences.
- The Policing concentration is for students intending careers in law enforcement and other occupations related to security and public safety.
- The Victimology concentration is relevant for students interested in the scholarly study of crime victims, their treatment in the justice systems and programs that serve victims. It is useful for those interested in victim advocacy.

Requirements to graduate with the BA degree program: To graduate, students must have minimum 120 credits hours, 42 upper-division credits hours of coursework, a minimum 2.00 major GPA and minimum 2.00 cumulative GPA. They must also fulfill an approved experiential learning experience, a two-course diversity requirement (domestic and global), complete a writing intensive course with a minimum C (2.000) grade. More specific graduation requirement information can be found in the Academic Policies section of the Kent State University Catalog (www.kent.edu/catalog).
