Flying Flashes Earn Their Wings

Congratulations to the 52 students who received their wings at our Fourth Annual Pilot Pinning Ceremony on September 4! These students were recognized for earning their Private Pilot Certificates or completing their first flight courses. Certified Flight Instructor certifications were honored with an additional set of wings to commemorate the transition from student to mentor. Thirty-five Kent State alumni pilots performed the pinning honors.

A special highlight was Dean Christina Bloebaum presenting the Dean's Wings to President Todd Diacon, Provost Melody Tankersley, and Associate Dean Maureen McFarland for their exceptional support of our Professional Pilot program.

To all our newly winged Flying Flashes: Congratulations on this milestone achievement and the bright aviation careers ahead of you!

Thank You to Our Student Volunteers!

Our heartfelt thanks go to the amazing student volunteers who made the 2025 A&E Expo unforgettable! Your passion for aviation and engineering was contagious, your knowledge impressive, and your dedication to helping families discover the magic of flight and the excitement of engineering truly inspiring. From aircraft demonstrations to robotics and STEM activities, you embodied the very best of our aeronautics and engineering community. Thank you for sharing your Saturday and your love of aviation and engineering with everyone!
