The Jet d'Eau is one of the tallest water fountains in the world and is one of Geneva's most iconic landmarks.

Home to 39 international organizations and 431 non-governmental organizations (NGOs), Geneva is often referred to as the Capital of Peace.

The L'horloge fleurie, or flower clock, is the largest flower clock in the world and was created in 1955 as a nod to the city's watchmakers.

Geneva is known for its spirit of international cooperation, humanitarian tradition, and as a crossroads of culture. Over 40% of Geneva's residents come from outside Switzerland making for a highly diverse and welcoming destination for international diplomacy and global business.

Webster Geneva takes full advantage of the city's rich learning and cultural context and is committed to providing a high-quality, personal and transformative experience to every student. Small class sizes ensure that students receive individual attention from faculty who bring real-world learning into the classroom.
